H-ISAC "Hobby" Exercises

A call for member engagement

The Health Sector Hobby Exercises are named after Overta Culp Hobby - the first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the United States. In keeping with her pioneering excellence in healthcare, the H-ISAC will plan and execute a series of cybersecurity related exercises. The exercises are intended to engage a cross-section of top-level public and private sector leaders.

The first exercise will commence in February, 2020 in Washington, DC. At present, H-ISAC is recruiting member organizations for both planning and exercise play. Seats are limited as we strive for diverse sub-sector participation. To be a part of this important activity reach out to:

Healthcare Sector Update

Council issues guide to recruiting skilled health care cybersecurity talent

The Healthcare Sector Coordinating Council, a public-private partnership of health care companies and providers developing collaborative solutions to mitigate threats to critical health care infrastructure, last week released a guide to help health care organizations attract and retain skilled cybersecurity talent. The guide offers resources to help hiring managers and chief information security officers think about cyber workforce development as a continuum, among other strategies.
